

CIGARETTE AND TRADE CARDS

Cigarette Cards

During Croydon Common's lifetime, numerous tobacco companies produced cards depicting footballers for inclusion in packets of cigarettes. However, only one player appeared on a cigarette card while playing for the club; Billy Yenson appeared in the 1910 series "Association Club Colours" issued by Gallaher's (see the next page for the card and its reverse). On the other hand, many of the players who played for the club at some point in their careers were depicted on cigarette cards and several examples appear below. Hand drawn cards were often issued in colour, but they have been reproduced in greyscale below.
