

RESULTS OF THE AMATEUR CLUB

The results of the matches known to have been played by the amateur Croydon Common club are set out below. However, this is still very much a work in progress. The matches shown are those reported in the local press, but there were certainly several more games played; for example, the results of some of the club's league matches went unreported. Added to this, scheduled friendly matches were regularly listed in the fixtures sections of the local newspapers but the results, or indeed whether or not the games were actually played, went unreported; perhaps because the club did not inform the newspapers of the results of those matches that were lost. Also, reported scheduled games were regularly replaced by matches against different opponents. It is anticipated that further matches will be added to each season if and when the relevant years of the Croydon Advertiser are digitised by the British Newspaper Archive.

Season 1896-97

As explained in Chapter 1 of the book, the amateur Croydon Common club commenced playing in the 1897-98 season, but an earlier club based at St. Luke's Mission Church, named Bensham Rovers, played some games the previous year. For completeness, the results of the matches reported in the local press as having been played by that club are included below, although others were almost certainly played.

Sa	13.02.97	Beckenham Swifts	d	H 0-0

- a The match report in the Croydon Guardian stated that Bensham Rovers conceded both goals in the first half and that goalkeeper Wilkins kept the score down with a splendid display, with Baldock and Herbert also playing well. Wickdene were based in Penge.
- b The newspaper report in the Croydon Guardian states that Haley, Folston, Baldock and Collison, together with Phillips in goal, played well, but that Herbert was missed. Sunderland were based in Sydenham.
- c The match report mentions Frank Worsfold Smith, thereby confirming the link with the amateur Croydon Common club.
- d Beckenham Swifts arrived with only eight men, as the other three selected players missed their train, but they picked up two willing players at the ground. The match report in the Beckenham Journal refers to them as "A Sub" and "A N Other".

Season 1897-98

This was the first season of the amateur Croydon Common club.

- a Ashdown were from Kentish Town.
 b This fixture replaced one that was advertised in the Croydon Times on the previous Wednesday against Carlisle United, albeit not the future Football League club, but rather a side from somewhere in West London. The fact that not all the club's match results appeared in the local press is demonstrated by the Croydon Times reporting that, after this game, Croydon Common's record for the season was P13, W8, D3, L2, F42, A11. If this was correct, two matches had gone unreported; one draw and one defeat, with an aggregate score of 2-4.
 c This replaced the scheduled match at home to Laconham Swifts, which was advertised in all the local newspapers.
 d This match replaced another advertised home fixture against the mysterious Carlisle United.
 e Pelham were from Wimbledon. The match was stopped after fifteen minutes of the second half due to bad light.

- a The report of the match in the Croydon Guardian ended with the comment that Croydon Common required two full backs and a left forward and potential players were invited to contact Frank Worsfold Smith.
 b Croydon Common fielded a team containing five reserves.
 c Crown United were from Biggin Hill.
 d Pelham were from Wimbledon.
 e Dartmouth were from Forest Hill.
 f It is not known whether Frank Worsfold Smith, the club's honorary secretary, played in this match, and the later one against Christ Church CLB, on merit or because the side was a player short.
 g Christ Church CLB were from Tooting. Unlike other local newspapers, the Croydon Advertiser reported it as a reserve fixture.

Season 1899-00

Although this was the club's first season of competitive football, the matches were very poorly reported; perhaps because, due to a lack of success, the club no longer submitted reports to the local press.

The results of the other three matches are still being sought; Croydon Excelsior (h), West Croydon Reserves (a) and Croydon Adult School (H). The final league table suggests that one was won and that the other two were lost. Given that Croydon Excelsior only had one win in the competition, Croydon Common must have won the return fixture, which suggests that the other two games were lost.

- a Future Croydon Common player Russ scored the first goal for Croydon Excelsior.
 b The local press reported that West Croydon Reserves had won comfortably, but did not provide the score.

- c The score derived from the goals totals in the final published table, with Croydon Common reportedly scoring twice.
- d The Sporting Life reported that more than 5,000 watched the match, whereas the Croydon Guardian, Croydon Times and Surrey County Gazette assessed the crowd at a more probable 2,000 spectators. Hollidge's penalty was initially saved, but was ordered to be retaken due to encroachment.
- e St. George's Albion started the match with only ten men.

- a The match finished ten minutes early due to bad light and the league stipulated that the final minutes would have to be played immediately prior to the start of the return fixture; however, when the extra time was played, there was no further score.
- b Reliance Ironworks later withdrew from the league and all matches were deemed to be 1-0 losses; so the Robins "lost" 12 goals.
- c The Croydon Chronicle reported that the five goals were scored by the five forwards; one goal each.
- d The match was apparently very rough and one of the Pitlake Swifts players was sent off, although for dissent. The first match (see a above) was completed first, by playing five minutes each way, with no score. In order to allow the taking of gate money for charity, what was nominally a home match for the Robins was played at the ground of Croydon Adult School in Coombe Lane and over 1,000 spectators paid 3d each.

- a The match was watched by only 120 spectators.
- b The goal was recorded as having been scored by Potter; however, for both this and the following season, the club had forwards named Lenny Potter, Jim Porter and Tom Porter and it was not unusual for match reports to confuse the three.

- a Several newspapers reported that the Robins would be playing Leatherhead away in the 1st. Round, but it has proved impossible to ascertain the result or even if the match was played. However, the Robins proceeded to the semi-final, so they either won the match or perhaps Leatherhead withdrew from the competition.
- b The match was played at Heaver's Farm, which the club had rented to meet the demands of running three sides.
- c The match was played at the ground of Sutton Rugby Club. Extra time of ten minutes each way was played, as the score was 2-2 after 90 minutes.

- a The match was watched by around 600 spectators.
- b The Surrey Comet reported the result as 6-0, but all the Croydon newspapers agreed that the score was in fact 5-0. The Croydon Chronicle credited one of Browne's goals to Potter in variance to the other reports.
- c The match was due to have been played the previous Saturday, but it was postponed due to fog and frost. The match was played in driving rain on a pitch described as a quagmire in the Croydon Times, watched by around 150 hardy souls. The Robins played with only ten men as Russ failed to arrive. In the previous round, Barnes Reserves apparently beat St. Mary's Recreation three times, with the first two wins each being set aside after protests.
- d The match was played at the ground of Croydon F.C., on a muddy pitch before a crowd of around 1,200. Russ could not play as he was injured and so was replaced by Evans, who was a defender. The goal was scored when the goalkeeper caught a corner from Kirk and Lisney bundled him into the net, with one newspaper claiming that the ball had already crossed the line and hence the goalscorer was Kirk.
- e The match was played at the ground of Croydon F.C.

Although the newspapers regularly announced further scheduled matches in this league, ultimately Croydon Common conceded all the remaining fixtures. However, the local press did not report the reason for this wholesale concession, other than that the club was having trouble finding free dates, which seems somewhat spurious given that the club played numerous friendlies (see below).

It is unclear whether the match was ever played, if Carshalton St. Andrew's ultimately withdrew or whether the newspaper was mistaken all along.

- a Chesham Town were then in Division Two of the Southern League and the current holders of the Berks & Bucks Senior Cup.
- b Although apparently a first team fixture, Croydon Common fielded a weak side, presumably due to the game the following day.
- c The attendance was variously estimated as between 3,000 to 4,000. The second half was played in fog.
- d At that time, Clapton Orient were in Division Two of the Football League and so a draw against that club's reserve side was very creditable. The press reports suggest that the game was somewhat marred by appalling refereeing. The Robins played for the first few minutes with only ten men.
- e The match was a benefit match for Tommy Kirk and P. Anderson, who had both been injured playing for the Robins and so had been unable to undertake their normal employment.
- f For some reason, the advertised match against Carshalton St. Andrew's in the Surrey Herald Cup was postponed and so, in the Morning Leader on 2 March, Jack Bartlett advertised for opponents for a friendly. Old Holloway Collegians arrived with only eight men, but borrowed three players from the Robins; Todd, Bourner and goalkeeper Besley's younger brother. The Robins put out a fairly weak side, which included Jack Bartlett at full back.
- g Of the several local newspapers, only the Croydon Advertiser reported on the match; this was in the edition of Saturday 25 March 1905 and it reported that the match had taken place "last week". As there was no reported match the previous Saturday, it is possible that the game took place on 18 March, but it could have been a few days either side of that date. The match was watched by a crowd of around 2,000 and twenty five supporters paid 13/6 to make the trip.

The results of the remaining games are still being sought: Woodside United (A), St. George's Albion (A), South Croydon (A) and South Norwood Athletic (H). With regard to the last of these, the Croydon Times stated in its report of Croydon Common's 5-1 away win that there had been reports that South Norwood Athletic had immediately conceded the return and that the Robins would be awarded the two points. However, it has not yet proved possible to verify this.

- South Norwood Athletic started the match with only seven players. The club then withdrew from the competition before the season ended, but its results were not expunged, with the result that the final league table did not add up correctly.
- The scorer of the other goal was not reported.
- The Croydon Charity League final was played at the ground of Croydon F.C. in the morning and the Surrey Junior League final was played on the same ground in the afternoon (see below).

The results of the two other matches are still being sought; Ashtead (A) and Carshalton St. Andrew's (A).

- The match was kicked off by Mr. Henry Charles Somers Augustus Somerset, the Liberal Party candidate who unsuccessfully stood for the Croydon seat in the 1906 General Election. In either this match, or the return the following month, the Robins fielded an ineligible player and had two points deducted.
- The Robins played with only ten men as Kirk failed to arrive.

Sa	30.12.05	Beddington Corner (4)	d	A	0-1

- Although Mitcham was drawn as the home team, it agreed to switch the game to The Crescent in return for what the local Croydon press described as "a consideration"; presumably a financial payment.
- The game was cut short due to bad light, caused by Croydon Common's late arrival, and the match was ordered to be replayed.
- The deciding match with Sutton United drew an attendance of 2,300.
- This appears to have been possibly the only match in the entire season in which the Robins failed to score.

The match attracted a large crowd reported as either 1,500 or 2,000 and Woodger scored twice for Thornton Heath Wednesday.*
- b The friendly was a benefit for half back Richard King, who had played for both clubs, as he was emigrating to Canada. Russ scored twice in the first half, but the scorer(s) of the three second half goals went unreported.

The results of the two other Matches are still being sought; Sutton United (A) and Dulwich St. John's (A)

- a One newspaper recorded the scorer as Jordan.
- b George Stockdale again kept goal when Tully failed to arrive.
- c Clapham Reserves only had eight players at the start, but a ninth arrived shortly afterwards.
- d This fixture was fulfilled by Croydon Common Reserves, with only eight men, as the first team was playing Old Tiffinians (who only had seven men) on the same day.
- e The match was played at the ground of Old Bostonians, as Croydon Common Reserves needed to play a rearranged cup tie caused by the side appearing against West Beckenham in lieu of the first team two weeks earlier. Croydon Common started the match with only eight men (goalkeeper Tully, Bennett and Corbett did not arrive) and then lost Hearn early in the game.
- f The published final league table suggests that champions Southfields did not draw any of their games; however, every newspaper reported this match as a 1-1 draw.

- a Redhill was later ejected from the league for fielding weak sides and the club's results were expunged from the records.
- b The match was cut short by eight minutes due to bad light, but it does not appear to have been later replayed. Due to a mix-up, two Croydon Common goalkeepers - Griffin and Bourner - turned up at Selhurst for a reserves fixture, whereas the former should have travelled to Surbiton to play in this game. George Stockdale went in goal, although he was temporarily replaced by Sawyer for the penalty that saw Old Tiffinians score their second goal.
- c Croydon Common arrived 30 minutes late and so the game was shortened to 35 minutes each way.
- d A crowd of Croydon Common spectators apparently stood outside the visitors' dressing room and loudly booed each opponent as they arrived.
- e The club fielded a weak eleven for the game and, once again, a goalkeeper failed to arrive and so Sawyer appeared in goal. The following Saturday, 9 February, the club did not have a fixture and so Bartlett placed an advertisement in the Morning Leader on 6 February reading "Croydon Common (strong senior) want match away, guarantee if far", but no match seems to have been arranged.
- f The result of a 1-0 win was set aside after Guards Depot successfully appealed on the grounds that the referee had not allowed the full 90 minutes, with the game being replayed the following month.
- g In the absence of a recognised goalkeeper, George Stockdale played in goal. The attendance was the largest for a home match at Dorking that season.
- h Croydon Common fielded a team of ten men largely made up of reserves and without a recognised goalkeeper.
- j This was the replay of the match that had ended early due to a referee error on 20 March. The match was originally due to have been played on 13 April at the ground of Leslie United, and a large crowd gathered for the game, but Guards Depot refused to play on the grounds that the pitch was too muddy.

Sa	20.10.06	Parthians (1R)	a	H	1-0	Browne
Sa	03.11.06	Guys Hospital (2)		A	1-5	Hollidge (pen)

- a This replay resulted in the postponement of the scheduled away match at Old Tiffinians in the Mid Surrey League. The crowd was around 1,000.

Friendly Matches

Day	Date	Opponents		H/A	Score	Scorers
Sa	01.12.06	Limehouse Town	a	H	2-1	Hathaway 2
Sa	30.03.07	Wimbledon	b	A	2-3	●
We	03.04.07	Thornton Heath Wednesday	c	A	1-1	Edwards
Sa	06.04.07	Leslie United	d	A	1-0	Russ

- a This friendly replaced the Mid Surrey League fixture with Guards Depot, who were playing Croydon in a cup match.
- b It has not proved possible to establish if this was in fact a first team match or merely a reserve team fixture, but it is worthy of inclusion given Wimbledon's later history.
- c It is not entirely clear if this was a first team fixture or a reserves match. Jack Bartlett played in goal and Ernie Colpus, who would later join the Robins, scored the equaliser for Thornton Heath Wednesday.
- d The players were driven from the pitch by a heavy hailstorm early in the match.
